petition of foreign labor and foreign products will form a conspicuous place in your platform.

From the first hour of Mr. Cleveland's administration till now his well-known free-trade principles, added to the repeated effort of a Democratic Congress to change the tariff laws, have been a perpetual menace to the industries of the country. New enterprises are thus discouraged and new lines of labor are not created.

During the three years of Democratic rule there has been built in the United States less toninge of American shipping than during any other three years for forty years before, in 1857 we transported in American bottoms to foreign lands only 14 per cent, of all our exports.

Indeed, so marked has been the effect of this Democratic policy upon the industries of the country that a general unrest among the laborers of the nation is everywhere noticed.

AGAIN THE BLOODY SHIRT.

AGAIN THE BLOODY SHIRT. Nor do these end the list of Democratic wrongs. The Republicans of the country cannot but note the almost universal practice in the Democratic States of the solid South to disregard the sacredness of the electoral franchise. It is monstrous to say that this practice can do no harm, or that in the end, if successfully pursued, it will not result in the destruction of the Republic. HE DISCUSSES THE PRESIDENT'S ACTS.

President Cleveland was elected as a great civil-service reformer, and yet he has removed more public officers for political reasons than any of his As a constitutional lawyer, Mr. Cleveland tells

As a constitutional lawyer, Mr. Cleveland tells the people he is a strict constructionist, but yet he has boildy disregarded the soul and spirit of the constitution which separates the executive, the legislative and judicial departments of the Government. He has vetoed more bills than all the other Fresidents from Washington down.

He has thus taken from the people the power to make their own laws, and places in his own hands the duties of the Legislature and the responsibilities of an executive officer.

The cowardly and foreign policy of the Democratic Administration receives the univer-al contempt of foreign people and humiliates our own. Matt till November comes and we will hear from Cleveland's Appomaticx. In 1881 the attack was upon the similes of the country. On the one side now, as then, is found the same solid South, the same Northern "doughfaces," the same British influences with the Couden Club and its American membership as recruits.

How to get rid of the surplus.

True, we are told by the President that there is a surplus in the Treasury; but there would not be a surplus if our ports were protected with fortifications well-gunned, if our navy was reconstructed, if our rivers and harbors were improved, if needed public buildings were constructed and if the pension bills vetoed by the President had become laws. Whoever before heard of a man with a surplus of money on hand refuse to put a roof on his own house?

In conclusion, gentlemen of the convention, the issues presented to the people this year are not of men, but of principles. The whole nation is looking on with breathless interest to see what we do. ISPECIAL TO THE WORLD. 1 CHICAGO, June 20.—Rumors of changes in the situation are beginning to fly around and to-day promises to bring some important developments. Before nightfall there may be a crystallization of the sentiment of the delegates, and this may benefit the leading andidates.

Chauncey M. Depew's stock is at the fluc uating point and the early morning reports are not favorable to him. In fact, he has not gained any strength, and the indications are that his lines may waver unless his friends make a raliv.

BATTLE FLAG IN THE MICHIGAN QUARTERS. The Northwestern States are still against his candidacy, and are holding that it would be suicidal to name a railroad President as the standard-bearer. The delegates from Nebraska, Minnesota, Michigan, Wisconsin, Kansas and lowa are receiving telegrams from their granger constituents to oppose Decrees.

The friends of Mr. Depew are consequently not as hopeful as they were Sunday and yesterday. Ex-Senator Thomas C. Platt said to an Evening World Correspondent at

"That is one thing in which a loyal man cannot consult his own preferences."

"But do you think, Mr. Boutelle, that there is any occasion to discuss the question whether Mr. Blaine will run if nominated?"

Mr. Sheridan Shook, delegate from the Thirteenth, Fifteenth and Seventeenth Assembly districts and the Morton House, said to The Everning World correspondent: "I will bet you a new hat that James G. "He could say to the other candidates that he had concluded that the great masses of the party wanted Blaine, and that he was the only man who could unite and lead the party to victory.

GEO. F. HOAR, JOHN S. WISE, Virginia. Massachusetts.

"Then Depew could call upon all the other candidates to withdraw in favor of Blaine, and that would settle it."

Ex-Alderman George B. Deane, another New York City delegate, remarked:
"I think Blaine will be nominated. I do not see any way out of this tangle except Blaine's nomination." Depey in my opinion, will get out after. The managers of Mr. Depew's campaign are frightened, and there is no mistake about it. However they have not given up hopes, and ex-Senator Miller, Judge Robertson and Gen. Husted are hurrying around at a lively geen. Husted are nurrying around at a rively pace.

The general impression seems to be that if there is the smallest break from Depew in the New York delegation on the second or third ballot his boom will collapse.

The Harrison people are more confident than ever. They count upon getting a majority of the New York vote if Depew falls out of the race.

The Ohio shouters are boastful of Sherman's chances, while the supporters of Gresham say that Gresham is gaining strength every hour. The backers of Alger are making a great deal of noise, but are not abowing where the yotes for Michigan's son

It was learned that the row started between Wise and Mahone. While the Mahone delegate, Col. Allen, was talking Brady and Wise frequently interrupted.

Mahone and Wise were sitting not more than five feet apart on the same side of the table. Wise said something in an undertone to Mahone which no one caught. But the little Brigadier at once jumped up and reached for Wise.

in the selection of Mr. Estee, and this morning it seems as if there was some big politics behind this move.

When Thurston said yesterday that it would be a 'political crime to nominate Blaine," the Pacific Slope delegates were white with rage, and the wily Elkins was quick to improve the opportunity to place a Blaine man in the chair when he would be reached. The latter let out for Mahone, but the members sitting between them prevented any damsge. Both were talking excitedly.
Congressman Libbey, one of the anti-Mahone men, struck at Allen.
Several of the Mahone people went for Libbey and bore him down to the floor. All the colored men in the room took part, and the mass of arms and legs in motion was such that the peace-making members hardly dared approach.
The peacemakers finally succeeded in pulling most of the fighters apart, but it was not needed.

An absurd rumbr was affoat this morning to the effect that Mr. Estee had signed a paper agreeing not to use his position as Chairman to further the nomination of Blaine.

recovered. Mrs. Goelz made a dying statement identifying Giblin as her murderer.

A jury was sworn in by Justice Barrett today for the trial of Giblin.

Col. Fellows and ex-Judge Gunning S. Bedford appeared for the prosecution, and Abram Suydam and Milo J. White were associated as counsel for Giblin.

Giblin is a cadaverous, hollow-eyed young man of twenty-three years, with a large, square head and a mop of black hair. He was cool and calculating, and acted as if he had only a business interest in the affair. His wife, a comely little woman, sat in the rear of the room with a lively baby in her arms. The baby had blue eyes and light, curly hair, and danced up and down on its mother's lap, crowing the while, until the frowns of Justice Barrett were seen by an officer and the little disturber was removed. Nicholas Goelz and his wife Maggie sat with Valentine in the rear of the court-room.

Mr. Bedford addressed the jury, Giblin watching their faces meanwhile, with a scrutinizing gaze.

Valentine Goelz was the first witness against Giblin. He is an intelligent man of thirty years, and told the story of the tragedy which robbed him of his wife in a straightforward, unimpassioned manner.

wanted to go to the toilet room for a few minutes,

"I suspected something," remarked Marshal Bernhard to-day, when he was telling the story of the arrest, "and I followed Vogel. He no sooner reached the toilet-room than he pulled a black bottle from his pocket, pulled out the cork and attempted to swallow the contents. I took the bottle from him like a flash, and when I searched him I found another bottle. Both contained arsenic. He intended to kill himself sure."

Vogal was considerably excited when brought before the Commissioner to-day. He said that he was willing to go back to Prussia without any trouble and be tried.

THOSE STANDARD OIL TANKS.

A Norvy Petition Requesting that the Company May Pill Thom.

W. C. Anderson, President of the Standard Gaslight Company, presented a new application to the Fire Commissioners this morning for permission to store oil and naphtha in their tanks in East One Hundred and Fif-

Mr. Anderson began his petition by mentioning the receipt of a notice from Inspector Serry to remove the naphtha from the works within two days. He asked that a permit be granted on the grounds that the Standard Oil Company had constructed the tanks at great expense and the refusal of the Commissioners put the company to great daily loss. He concluded with the words: "We cannot see why the permit for storing our oil and naphtha should be longer delayed, and we therefore request that the same be granted." The matter was referred to Commissioner Croker, for further consideration.

NELLIE'S ACCUSER NOT IN COURT. Dr. Goff Does Not Appear-He Denies He

Was Cruel to His Wife. Dr. Cleveland W. Goff was not in court this morning to press his larceny charge against his servant, Nellie McGuinness, and the case was adjourned. Assistant District-Attorney Jerome thinks there is no case against the girl.

Dr. Goff contradicts Nellie's published statement as to occurrences in his household at 111 West Thirty-third street. He insists he took Nellie into his house out of charity, and that she repaid him for his kindness by stealing and pawning clothes and ornaments from the house. He claims that he and Mrs. Goff lived happily together and that he never treated her cruelly.

Flames at Elizabethport.

[SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.]
ELIZABETH, N. J., June 20,-Bontgem & Co.'s arge shear factory on Herida street, Elizabethport, was totally destroyed by fire at 3 o'clock this morning. A Prominent Merchant in Trouble. Old Moneybags mopes in his office all day,
As snappish and cross as a bear;
The clerks know enough to keep out of his way,
Lest the merchant should grumble and swear.
Even Tabby, the cat, is in fear of a cuff,
Ora kick, if she ventures too near;
They all know the master is apt to be rough,
And his fleaks unexpected and queer.

What makes the old fellow so surly and grim, What makes the old fellow so surily and grim,
And behave so confoundedly mean?
There's certainly something the matter with him—
Is it stomach, or liver, or spicen?
We've guessed it—his liver is sluggish and bad,
His blood is disordered and foul.
It's enough to make any one hopelessly mad,
And greet his best friend with a growl.
The world-wide remedy, Dr. FERSCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL Discovers, will correct a disordered liver and purily the blood, tone your system and build up your fiesh and strength.

Is He Coming Back to Testify of Boodle?

What the Ex-Alderman's Wife Wrote to a Lady Friend.

nently in New York in a New Uptown Home-A Possible Sensation Which May Yet Be Sprung from the District-Attorney's Office, Though Mr. Semple Said He Did Not Bnow of It.

Mrs. De Lacy, the wife of the exiled boodle Alderman now in Montreal, whose visit to New York last spring was the cause of a senational report to the effect that De Lacy was coming back to testify for the people in the trial of Thomas B. Kerr, has written a letter to a lady friend in this city which has revived that rumor.

about a month ago, and now writes to say that she is to return to take up her residence permanently here. She says that on their return they will not

She says that on their return they will not occupy their Fifth street residence, but will take a house uptown.

Had Mrs. De Lacy, during her visit here, made arrangements with the District-Attorney which promised immunity from prosecution for her husband?

Had that been her mission, the failure to convict Kerr might have made it easy of accomplishment, for District-Attorney Fellows, it is alleged, was ready to make almost any concession to secure evidence which would save him from defeat on a second trial.

Assistant District-Attorney Semple was in-terviewed with reference to the matter. He said that he had heard of no arrangement for De Lacey's return. He hoped, however, that he would, suggesting that it would be an easy matter to convict him.

bookkeeper, resumed his testimony in the Stewart will case this morning. He said under Mr. Choate's questioning

He said under Mr. Choate's questioning that after April, 1976, large drawings were made from the dry-goods business every year. He could not state the exact amount, but it averaged about half a million a year for the first three years. From that time on the amounts would be shown by the books.

Mr. Hopkins produced a portion of the "special ledger," showing credits on Mr. Stewart's account of $16,519,274. debit $307,599,97, and other items aggregating $8,052,436.80. This left $8,159,277.04 to which was added $19,964.93, making $8,179,-

Q. When Mrs. Stewart transfered all of her in-terest to Judge Hitton what source of revenue did she have? A. Her personal real estate and cer-tain bank stock.

Mrs. Stewart paid sums out through the firm, Mr. Hopkins said, and had them charged to her.

Bishop Littlejohn was then called, and related the substance of interviews he had had with Mrs. Stewart and Judge Hilton regarding the building of the Garden City Cathedral and schools, Long Island.
